

Top 10 Shopping List

£5

Can give someone with learning disabilities a weekly call, a much needed life-line.

The Hftea Party!

£25

Could fund a member of the Luv2meetU team to support two people on their first date.

£50

Could provide someone with a one cup kettle that helps them safely make a cup of tea without needing the assistance of a support worker.

£100

Could pay for a key safe, giving someone the freedom to leave the house without worrying they'll forget their keys.

£200

Could fund a video doorbell system, helping to allow someone to live safely and securely in their own home.

£350

Could pay for someone to have an epilepsy sensor installed in their bed, meaning staff can be alerted quickly if a seizure is detected.

£500

Could buy an adapted bike, giving people a chance to exercise and spend time enjoying the outdoors.

